THERE WERE 437 ARRESTS IN KINGSTON IN 1920, POLICE CHIEF'S REPORT SHOWS

Chief Wood Calls Attention to Need of Ordinance Regulating Pool Rooms—Reckless Auto Drivers Should be Jailed or Fined Heavily—Police Work in 1920.

Chief of Police J. Allan Wood submitted the twenty-ninth annual report of the work accomplished by the police department of the city during 1920, Thursday evening at a meeting of the board of police commissioners held at the city hall. Chief Wood states in his report that the only remedy in his opinion to punish reckless auto drivers is to increase the amount of the fines imposed, or sentence the drivers to proper jail terms. He also calls attention to the need of an ordinance regulating pool rooms in the city. The completion of the Rondout creek bridge he believes will greatly increase traffic and make it necessary to appoint several new officers for traffic duty. During the past year the department made 437 arrests, of which eight were females, or 59 less than 1919, when 496 arrests were made. The report in full reads as follows:

To the Honorable Board of Police Commissioners of the City of Kingston, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

I herewith respectfully submit for your approval the twenty-ninth annual report of the police department for the year 1920. The report exhibits in detail the work performed by the department during the year together with recommendations, financial condition and general information pertaining to police work and practice.

Law Enforcement.

All laws and ordinances have been given careful attention by the department throughout the year. Wherever possible it has been the practice, of members of this department, to explain all new laws and ordinances to citizens in order that they might have a clear understanding of them. This practice has met with the approval of a large number of people and has lessened the possibilities of arrest because of ignorance of the law. Law enforcement, generally, does not cause any inconvenience to the average citizen who is engaged in the ordinary lawful pursuits of life or does he have any fear of policemen. The law does not worry them any because it is a part of their daily life to obey the law. The good citizens are friendly toward the honest policeman who is endeavoring to do his duty and they regard the policeman in the same manner as they would any other person engaged in an honorable profession. That the citizens of Kingston appreciate the courteous treatment practiced by members of this department in the performance of their duty was made plain on two occasions during the past year when they loyally offered their services for emergency police work.

For the betterment of local conditions particularly of the youth, this department has allied itself with every movement to this and which has presented itself.

The boy problem which confronted us during the year I believe is now under satisfactory control. It has never been the policy of members of this department to control the boys, on the streets of our city, through fear, instead it has been the practice to get them together in groups and talk to them in a man to man way with far better results.

The general trend of police work during the past year has required more modern methods and the citizens generally have come to realize that there is a new type of officer of the law who are qualified for the position they hold.

Motor Vehicles.

Motor vehicles in Kingston increased beyond all expectations during the past year and with it accidents, violations of traffic laws and thefts. The use of the modern vehicle has increased the work of this department one hundred per cent. The addition of another motorcycle was necessary during the year and traffic conditions made it necessary to maintain the motorcycle service until the first snow storm this winter.

Except on special occasions no traffic officers are used on our street corners and at such times as they are used they are taken from other districts. While this practice deprives certain districts of regular police protection it is the best we can do under the circumstances with our small force. I believe that when the new bridge is ready for use the increased traffic will make it necessary to appoint several new officers for traffic duty.

Enough has been printed in the press about accidents to fill volumes and it has not availed much. Accidents have occurred frequently through careless driving and reckless speed. The only remedy in my opinion is to punish offenders more severely than in the past by increased fines, until it hurts, or sentence them to proper jail terms which the offense might merit.

Traffic control however is not the most important interest police have in this city of rapid transit. Burglars, highwaymen and criminals of all kinds are making use of the automobile to assist them in their criminal work. In some respect our city has been peculiarly free from some of the more dangerous type of criminal but necessary precautions must be taken to meet these conditions before they occur in order to act quickly and effectively.

Motor Equipment.

Two new motorcycles were purchased by the department during the year and an old motorcycle was sold. With these exceptions the motor equipment is the same as last year. All motor vehicles are in fair condition and ready for another year's work. The ambulance ran 923 miles in making 239 ambulance calls. The touring car ran 7,908 miles. The motorcycles ran 7,235 miles in taking care of traffic on our public streets. The cost of gasoline and oil for these vehicles was, ambulance 10.5 cents per mile; touring car, 2.72 cents per mile and motorcycles, 1.54 cents per mile. The total cost per mile for all purposes for all vehicles was 6.05 cents per mile.

Police Signal System.

The police signal system has given good service during the year. It still has a few places which cause slight trouble during rainy weather and this is caused by limbs of trees which come in contact with the lines. We have about five miles of wire in underground cables and fourteen miles of pole line construction. No trouble occurs from the underground construction. The total cost for supplies and repairs for the year was $200.93.

Police Fund.

The moneys raised for all police purposes were ample for its needs and I am pleased to report a balance on hand at the close of the year's work.

Tax levy for the year 1920	$42,612.71

Outstanding bills December 31st, 1920	514.23
	$46,170.86

Police Pension Fund.

The police pension fund is in good condition. There is a fair amount to its credit all of which is distributed in different banks of the city.

There are five members of the department now on pension who receive one-half of the salary which they were receiving at the time of their retirement. The condition of the fund as it appears on the books of the city treasurer as of December 31st, 1920, is as follows:

Balance on hand January 1st, 1920	$15,956.18

	$19,117.77
Less outstanding warrants dated December 31st, 1920	145.00
	$18,972.77

General Information.

The department collected during the year $1,004.00 for sundry licenses; $155.00 for junk licenses; $199.00 for ambulance service; found 1,408 arc and 731 incandescent lights out; gave lodging to 227 persons who applied for same at police headquarters; received 59,020 calls over the police signal system; served 72 warrants of arrest, and 303 summonses for complaints which were satisfactorily disposed of without arrest.

I wish to call your attention to the increasing need of an ordinance to regulate pool and billiard parlors in our city. The number of these places has increased largely during the past year and some of them remain open until late hours of the night and in some instances all night. They attract only the youth of the city and are sometimes operated by unscrupulous persons who take this method of making a living and who have no regard for the morals of the city and who will take all kinds of chances with the law. Pool rooms are crime breeders in any city and I have found that they are

GOVERNMENT TUG CREW IS LOST

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Galveston, Texas, Jan. 14.—Coast patrols continue today searching between this city and Point Isabel in an effort to locate the bodies of seven members of the crew of the United States government steam tug Captain Talfor, who are believed to have perished when the little vessel went to pieces in the Gulf of Mexico. But slight hope is entertained here that the men are living.

Evidence of a disaster came with the discovery early Thursday morning of a pilot house and other pieces of super-structure of the boat on the beach.

MUSCLE SHOALS DEBATE GOES ON

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The battle over the Muscle Shoals nitrate bill was renewed in the senate today with the prospect that it would again hold the right of way as "unfinished business" to the exclusion of all other pending legislation.

For nearly three weeks now the bill has been the storm center of a senatorial wrangle and tangle which has tied the senate's calendar in knots.

Support of the bill has been led by Senator Underwood of Alabama, of the Democratic minority leader; the opposition by Senator Wadsworth, Republican, New York, chairman of the senate military affairs committee.

Wadsworth is seeking to have the measure amended so as to completely divorce the Muscle Shoals project from the war department, and to transfer to the treasury department direction of the proposed federal corporation to continue the production at the plant of nitrogen for explosives, fertilizer and other purposes.

Underwood has indicated he entertains no special objection to Wadsworth's proposal provided an agreement can be reached for fixing an hour for a final vote on the bill itself. Such an agreement, which requires unanimous consent, was blocked by Senator Poindexter, Republican, of Washington, when he entered for the first time an attack upon the bill. He promised to renew it today.

IRISH VIOLENCE FLAMES ANEW

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Dublin, Jan. 14.—The deadlock in the peace negotiations has been followed by an increase in violence on the Irish "front." Machine guns, trench helmets and dugouts are now playing a part in Irish warfare.

Dublin Castle, in an official report, said that military policemen on patrol duty at Blarney, saw a woman run across a field and drop something. The policeman followed her and found that she had dropped part of the mechanism of a machine gun. The field was then searched, according to the statement, and the police found dugouts, holding three rifles, machine guns, drums of gelignite, a number of revolvers, 1,000 rounds of ammunition, steel helmets, pikes and uniforms of the Irish Republican Army. Letters were seized which resulted in several arrests.

LOCAL K. OF C. ANSWER APPEAL

The following letter speaks for itself of the charity work done here by the Fourth Degree Assembly, Knights of Columbus, who are to give a charity ball on the evening of Wednesday, February 2, in the New York state armory:

Dear Friends:—It is with much regret that we note your appeal in the evening paper for eggs and fruit. It is certainly deplorable that such a worthy charity as the Industrial Home finds it necessary to appeal for assistance through the public press.

Enclosed you will kindly find check for one hundred dollars ($100) from the Fourth Degree Assembly, Knights of Columbus. If at any time in the future you need funds for immediate relief, do not hesitate to call upon the Fourth Degree Assembly, Knights of Columbus.

Very truly yours,
JAMES R. HIGLET, Treas.

TRIED TO BLOW MILTON SAFE

Milton, Jan. 14.—Through some miscalculation on the part of the burglars a daring attempt to blow the safe in the local post office came to naught and the burglars were forced to make their escape before accomplishing their purpose. A hole drilled in the door of the safe in which a cartridge was discharged was so located that it merely damaged the lock but did not force the safe open. An inventory at the office shows that but one parcel was taken. The contents and value of the missing parcel are not known.

The burglar entered the rear of the building by removing a pane of glass. He then passed through two rooms which are at the rear of the post office and drilled a hole through the rear door of the office in such a manner that the night latch might be worked.

The attempt to blow the safe was discovered by Miss Loretta Spratt, assistant to Fred Smith, postmaster, when she came to open the office yesterday morning.

An expert was summoned from Poughkeepsie to open the safe. This was accomplished after considerable trouble. It was found that its contents, including a few postage stamps and a small amount of cash, were intact.

After making a careful examination of the safe the lock expert from Poughkeepsie pronounced the job to be that of professional safe breakers.

MEXICAN PROBLEM HARDING HERITAGE

No Recognition of Obregon Before March 4—Mexican Executive's Strange Illness Delays Country's Progress Toward Stability—Revolts Ready to Break Out Again.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The fog of uncertainty that hangs over the Mexican situation makes it virtually certain, it was said today, that no action looking to recognition of the Obregon government will be taken before President Wilson retires from the White House on March 4. The Mexican question, like many other international questions, will be inherited by Senator Harding.

While Mexico is outwardly in a more stable condition than she has been in years both official and private reports reaching Washington indicate that beneath the surface there is the usual bubbling of discontent and trouble. This condition of affairs has been aggravated recently by the illness of President Obregon. One report of a semi-official nature reaching Washington is that Obregon's illness is due to poisoning. There is no confirmation of the report.

It is freely acknowledged that there are several revolutions in the making below the Rio Grande. That of General Francisco Murguia in the north of Mexico is but one of these. While none of them has yet assumed menacing proportions, men in close touch with Mexican affairs believe it would need but the death of Obregon to again flood the turbulent republic with the violence and bloodshed from which it has suffered for ten years.

Mexico's distraught condition is greatly due to financial difficulties, according to official and private observers. The Obregon government is badly in need of a loan, and in this connection, it was learned today, a good many influential Republicans are in favor of granting it if it can be shown that such action would stabilize conditions to any appreciable degree.

Mexican agents are said to have recently made unsuccessful efforts in financial circles to obtain help from banking interests. With the memory of ten years of chaos in Mexico, American bankers are chary of pouring any more dollars across the Rio Grande until they see some chance of getting them returned.

One possibility discussed in senatorial circles is for the United States to guarantee the loan after Harding comes into office on March 4th and then superintend the spending of the money. One stipulation would be that none of it would go into powder and lead, but would be used in purely domestic channels.

Fire on Broad Street, New York.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 14.—A five story building—an old land mark—on Broad street, a block south of the Stock Exchange and the J. P. Morgan offices, was swept by fire early this morning. After a hard fight, firemen succeeded in checking the blaze before it had spread to any other buildings. Damage was estimated at $50,000. The fire started in the basement of the building, which is mainly occupied by a restaurant.

Wolf and Lynx Reported Shot.

Reports have reached this city of the recent shooting in the vicinity of the Ashokan reservoir of both a wolf and a lynx. Both beasts have not been long in the vicinity of the reservoir property, and it is thought that they drifted in from the Canadian wilds. If the reports are true this is the first in years that a wolf has been seen in that vicinity.

Keys Found.

A bunch of keys on a key ring has been left at the uptown office of The Freeman by a young man who found them on Albany avenue, near Academy Park. There are six flat keys, a door key and a bottle opener stamped "The People's Store."

SEC'Y HUDSON'S REPORT DEALS WITH PRESENT

Chamber Of Commerce With 30 Per Cent Larger Membership, Shown To Be Assuming Larger Responsibilities.

The report of Secretary S. D. M. Hudson for the past year, made to the Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening, reads as follows:

The recent membership campaign of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce resulted in an increase of 169 memberships bringing the total membership up to 670.

This gain of 30 per cent in Chamber of Commerce membership made at a time of adverse business conditions and following a gain of 300 made one year ago indicates the approval and confidence of the people of Kingston in their civic and commercial body.

This report deals with what Chamber of Commerce is now doing.

It is not necessary to review again the definite accomplishments upon which this confidence is based and which were reviewed in detail at the time of the membership campaign.

It is useful and appropriate to give some account of what the Chamber of Commerce is now doing and what it proposes to do further to secure for Kingston the civic, industrial and business development the possibility of which is today present and which is to some considerable degree founded in what the Chamber has done since the end of the war.

The Chamber of Commerce, because of the added strength which it now enjoys has been able to assume responsibilities the successful carrying through of which is of the most definite and farreaching importance to everyone who has any interest in Kingston.

Chamber is a Civic Organization.

The Chamber is today a true civic organization interesting itself in varied projects for community betterment and welfare. This breadth of interest makes it more effective in its strictly industrial and business work. Progressive business men have come to appreciate that industry and trade cannot prosper unless the city in which they are located is a good place for men, women and children to live, to work and to play.

Work Already Done a Foundation

The foundation for the work which the Chamber of Commerce is now doing rests in our success in attracting to Kingston the Kattermann & Mitchell Silk Company, the Apollo Magneto Corporation and L. Barth & Son, Inc.; on our part in the organization and maintenance of the Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain Association; on our activity in behalf of a series of public improvements, including especially the Rondout Creek bridge; on a series of retail trade events; on encouragement of auto bus traffic by the provision of terminal waiting rooms; on improvements secured in railroad, boat and express service; and on many other activities which have been successfully undertaken.

Governor Smith and Commissioner Greene.

It is gratifying to note that Governor Alfred E. Smith at the close of his term said that he did not know how the business of the state of New York could be carried on without the interest and the cooperation of Chambers of Commerce in public affairs.

Colonel Frederick S. Greene, state commissioner of highways, has also testified that he has received more valuable assistance from Chambers of Commerce than from any other source, speaking especially of cases in which he has asked specifically for such cooperation and has received it, of which the Rondout bridge is one.

Mayor Canfield.

Mayor Palmer Canfield referred to the Kingston Chamber of Commerce in his annual message as having taken a position of such importance in the civic affairs of Kingston that any message would be incomplete without such reference.

Present Work.

The work now undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce grows naturred to the Kingston Chamber of Completed. It is sufficiently broad in its scope to amount to a comprehensive program of public improvement affecting the civic, industrial and business interests of Kingston. It will be supplemented by further consultation of the entire membership of the Chamber as to what each member believes the Chamber should do, its possibilities of effectiveness may be still further enlarged by further growth in the strength of the Chamber.

Boys' Welfare.

There is nothing new in saying that the future of Kingston depends on Kingston's boys and girls. There is something new and something of the greatest importance in bringing together the organized thought, interest and activity of Kingston in behalf of our boys and girls.

The Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of the Kingston Rotary Club has undertaken this, beginning with boys' welfare but proposing to include the welfare of our girls as well.

On November 20 and December 1 a boys' welfare conference, including representatives of the churches, fraternal organizations and social welfare organizations of Kingston, met at the high school on the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club. Public officials

JUDGE FOWLER CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Annual Meeting of Organization Held Thursday Night—Samuel Watts, Charles Ramsey and A. D. Pardee on Board of Directors—Members Hear About Snow Removal.

County Judge Joseph M. Fowler was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce at the reorganization of the board of directors Thursday night. He succeeds Charles R. O'Connor. Other officers elected: Vice-presidents, Charles Ramsey and S. E. Eighmey; treasurer, Cornelius Treadwell; secretary, Sydney D. M. Hudson.

The three new directors elected at the annual meeting of the chamber were Sam Watts, Charles Ramsey and A. D. Pardee. They succeed Charles R. O'Connor, Joseph M. Herbert and Elva Bogart. A provision in the constitution prevented their re-election.

At the opening of the meeting of the chamber President O'Connor read the following report:

The Chamber of Commerce has just closed a very busy year. It has not only been busy, but, I believe, it has been a year of much betterment to our city. Your board of directors have endeavored to bring to the city substantial manufacturing interests and to generally improve trade conditions. We know that this work has the support of our citizens both financially and morally as indicated by the increase of 169 in our membership.

Through the efforts of our efficient secretary, Sydney Hudson, we were able to secure the plant of L. Barth & Son, Incorporated, and we believe that the securing of this plant will be a big thing for Kingston in years to come.

Mr. Hudson was also instrumental in the formation of the Catskill-Shawangunk Mt. Association which ties Kingston to the vast hotel interests of the region, accommodating thousands of tourists each year.

The board of directors have organized the retail trade branch which fills a long felt need and will surely bring our merchants into closer cooperation with each other.

Probably the best thing planned this year was the Boys' Welfare Conference. The interest that was shown and the suggestions made will we trust be a foundation for future efforts toward good citizenship.

There are many other things of interest that the chamber has endeavored to promote such as the erection of the Rondout creek bridge, working out some plans to relieve the housing situation, Family Welfare Agency, zoning of the city to protect residential sections, creation of the City Market and cooperation with the Farm Bureau.

The chamber has endeavored to cooperate with the city administration whenever opportunity has offered.

I wish to personally thank Schuyler Schultz and the other campaign workers for the excellent work done in our campaign. Also, the members of the board who have loyally supported the chamber in the work of the last year.

In our secretary, we possess a great asset and I personally would speak for him and your board of directors and your loyal cooperation.

I believe in the city of Kingston and I believe in the Chamber of Commerce and I look for a glorious future for both.

This report was adopted, and the members then listened to the following report given by the treasurer, Cornelius Treadwell:

After the treasurer's report Secretary Hudson presented his annual report which is given in full in other columns of tonight's issue.

While the meeting was waiting for the tellers to complete the vote for directors, John B. Kearney asked for information relative to the new snow plow purchased by the board of public works.

Sam Watts who is a member of the board of public works explained that the city had purchased a shovel snow plow which consisted of one large blade, 10 feet by 10 inches, and which is attached to the front of one of the big city trucks. Commissioner Watts said that this kind of plow had been used successfully in other cities and also by the state highway department. He said that it was the idea of the city and surrounding villages to attempt to keep the roads leading into the city open so that the busses and stages could run all winter. However, Mr. Watts explained, the plow merely sweeps the snow to the side of the road and streets and it will be necessary to have some follow-up system to remove the snow from the streets. The plow can handle two feet of snow by regulating the blade.

Mr. Kearney called attention to the fact that the trolley company's snow plow merely sweeps the snow from the tracks to the space between the tracks and curbs. He thought the trolley company could arrange to sweep the snow from the tracks to the gutters. This he said could easily be done if the trolley company went to work before the snow became packed. He said that by starting out while the snow was light the Hauck Company last year had been able to keep McEntee street open with an A plow attached to one of their motor trucks.

Mr. Watts said that he thought it would be wise for the Chamber of Commerce to suggest to the trolley company that it put on flat cars or cars with sidings to remove the snow on the streets. This city, he said, presents one of the best opportunities for removing snow in this manner as both lines lead to swamps where the snow could be disposed of. He said that the board of public works would be glad to cooperate with the trolley company by helping to load the cars.

At this point in the discussion the tellers, John E. Mahar, N. G. Cochran, A. D. Pardee, A. L. Harder, Arthur Burns and Jesse C. Klein, announced the completion of their work of counting the votes for directors. The three highest in the count were Sam Watts, Charles Ramsey and A. D. Pardee. They were declared elected. A total of 265 votes were cast.

The three new directors pledged themselves to do all in their power to further the work of the chamber. Secretary Hudson called attention to the fact that Mr. Pardee rendered considerable service to the Chamber of Commerce in its early days when it was known as a Board of Trade. Mr. Pardee was one of the original members of the National Secretary's Association. Mr. Ramsey had also served before as a director of the Chamber of Commerce in its early days.

Mr. Watts moved that the Chamber of Commerce extend a vote of thanks to the retiring president for the efficient way in which the chamber had been conducted during the past year, and also to the retiring officers for their able services. This motion was carried unanimously.

In responding to the vote of thanks, President O'Connor said that he felt that any efficiency of the organization had been due to the secretary and not to the president. He said that he, and he spoke also for the other retiring directors, would be just as much interested in the work of the chamber now as during their terms of office.

Brief talks in which all expressed their faith in the chamber were given by Mr Kearney of the Kattermann-Mitchell silk mill, John Kearney, John E. Mahar, Ernest Kelly, Judge Fowler, Cornelius Treadwell and S. E. Eighmey.

The board of directors then adjourned to the telephone building

N. Y. ACTORS TALK OF NEW STRIKE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 14.—Another strike of actors and actresses, members of the Actors' Equity Association, loomed in the offing today as the Producing Managers' Association met to hear charges that have been made against Lee and J. J. Shubert, who control about 75 per cent of the theaters throughout the country. The Actors' Equity Association has demanded the expulsion of the Shuberts from the Producing Managers' Association, with which the Equity has a five year contract, on the ground that the Shuberts have violated the terms of the peace agreement that settled the actors' strike a year ago and they persistently discriminate against Equity members.

On Character of Last Honors to Former Kaiserin.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, Jan 14.—Officials of the Evangelical Church today ordered all the consistories to ring their church bells in the event of the death of the ex-kaiserin at Doorn. Protest against this order was afterwards made by the Prussian Home Ministry.

It is not yet certain if the former empress will be buried on German soil. The monarchist newspaper Deutsche Zeitung, in a leading editorial, puts the question directly up to the government, but there has been no reply.

According to latest reports from Doorn, the ex-kaiserin is very low.

Murguia Adherents Executed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Mexico City, Jan. 14.—General Heliodoro Perez and six officers who were said to have been involved in a revolutionary plot headed by General Murguia, have been summarily executed, according to a report received here today.

Novelty Social.

The Queen Esther Society of St. James's M. E. Church extends to friends an invitation to a novelty social to be held this evening at the home of Clara Young, 20 Lafayette avenue. The admission fee will be as many cents as there are letters in one's name.

New Fishing Methods.

A Lamont man who is charged with having taken a fish from a private fish pond declares the fish were so tame that one of them was eating out of his hand, and he simply closed his fingers on it and carried it away. Our own method has always been to whistle to the creatures from across the fence, and walk away, innocent-like, while they trot down the road after us.—Detroit News.

Effect of Wrong Books.

Some wrong food at the right moment, as every mother knows, may send a child into convulsions. The wrong book at the right time doesn't have such an immediately apparent effect, but it may later be the cause of a mental convulsion which will seriously mar the child's whole life, says Mothers' Magazine.

WHAT YOU NEED IS RED BLOOD

Men, Women and Children Who Are Pale and Run Down Need Help

TRY PEPTO-MANGAN

It Builds Rich Red Blood Which Restores Vitality.

So often growing children look pale and wan. They play too hard and use up all their energy. Men and women are the same. They often work too hard.

The blood becomes clogged with waste matter. There are not enough red corpuscles. A condition of anemia (or bloodlessness) develops.

Your blood is half starved. It needs the nourishing ingredients in Pepto-Mangan to make it rich and red.

Begin taking Pepto-Mangan today. In a little while you'll see an improvement in color and appetite and energy.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in liquid and tablet form. Both have the same ingredients. Take either kind you prefer. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package.

RYAN AND WHITE RETIRE SUNDAY

Request of Veteran Police Officers For Retirement Granted by Police Board—Police Department to Have Lungmotor—Other Matters.

The board of police commissioners held a special meeting Thursday evening, and, as predicted in The Freeman of that day, granted the requests filed with them by Policemen William Ryan and Patrick J. White that they be placed on the retired list of the police department. Both officers will perform their last active duties as members of the department today and Saturday, retiring Sunday on half pay.

Policeman Ryan has served the department twenty-seven years while Policeman White the first of the year completed twenty-five years of service. Both have been efficient members of the force, and were held in esteem not only by their brother officers but the residents of the city.

The police board also decided to purchase a lungmotor which will be placed in headquarters at the city hall, and all of the members of the department instructed in its use. The lungmotor will also be at the disposal of the local hospitals and city physicians when needed.

The annual report of Chief of Police J. Allan Wood was read. The report in full will be found elsewhere in The Freeman.

The board before adjourning disposed of a number of routine matters.

Error in Court Calendar.

Through a typographical error in spelling the name of John Setera on the court calendar, the name appeared spelled "Letera" in The Freeman. Mr. Setera, who brought the action against Thomas J. Curtin to recover the balance due on a contract for building a porch on Mr. Curtin's house, is the well known down town carpenter and builder. A verdict for $45 was awarded Mr. Setera.

Mother's Old Remedy Proves Best for Colds

Every mother knows the virtues of mustard in breaking up colds of the head and chest. And every mother has used mustard plasters for this purpose. Every one can remember the burning, blistering plaster that always brought relief.

Mothers still use mustard to break up coughs, colds and croup, but they use it in the modern form of Muster-Ice. This is a white ointment, which contains oil of mustard. It has all the virtues of the old-fashioned mustard plaster, and none of its drawbacks. You simply rub it in with the finger tips. Its gentle warmth quickly relieves congestion. Pain, soreness and tightness disappear. Muster-Ice will not blister the most sensitive skin.

Use it for sore throat, cold, croup, backache, lumbago, bronchitis, neuralgia, pleurisy and all other ailments where a gentle counter-irritant is needed to relieve congestion and soreness or stiffness. Be sure to get Muster-Ice, a Gibson-Snow Quality Product at all druggists. Made by the makers of Wild Cherry Cough Syrup.

AN OSTRICH TRIMMED BLOUSE

Since ostrich is used in many other articles of apparel a thoughtful designer trimmed this dainty waist with it. The blouse is made of brown satin. The "Sarah Bernhardt" sleeve is another feature. The high collar trimmed with ostrich looks particularly well.

FASHION NOTES

For street wear duretyn and velvet are most favored, while for the dinner frock the semi-high neck and sleeveless velvet gown is very popular.

For the time being no change is foreseen in the coiffure. It remains extremely simple, the forehead free, the hair rolled low on the nape of the neck, sides softly waved and nearly on the cheeks.

Attractive sport gauntlets are of camel's hair, brushed and knitted wool, with turn-back cuffs that show the gay colors of different Scotch clans.

For the younger element bouffant types are receiving as much approval as in past seasons, and the full skirt is also gaining favor.

New sweaters show much use of white angora trimming. The sweaters that are to be taken to the southern beaches have very abbreviated sleeves, and short sleeves will probably be generally favored next summer.

There are innumerable collar variations this season. The high, medium and low line are all treated in various ways. There are many plain round necks, others are slashed, and others are pointed. Some of the high collars are turn-overs, some are straight in mannish effect, while some are completed by a decidedly masculine bow tie.

Imported scarfs of silk, in white, blue and buff, in a new open lace stitch, have their ends embroidered in any colored wools.

SELECTION OF SPORT DUDS

In Making Choice It Is Safe to Decide on What Is Sensible and Becoming.

The women of America rival those of England in the way they wear their sport clothes and the good judgment with which they select them, asserts a fashion writer. The increasing popularity of sport clothes for everyday wear has of course gained for them a great deal more of the designer's attention. Many a garment, such as the sweater, which only a few years ago was considered almost entirely from the standpoint of utility, has become a very important article in country life. Creators who formerly would have scorned the idea of wasting time on the sweater now consider it well worth while to spend any amount of time in working out new designs in these.

It is as important for a woman to give a great deal of consideration to outing clothes as to any part of her wardrobe. Every detail should be carefully thought out and the buying done after the greatest deliberation. It is much easier to make mistakes in this type of dress than in any other. Some very ill-assembled clothes are worn under the name of sport apparel. If there is a question as to what is correct it is almost invariably safe to decide on what is sensible and becoming.

VEST VOGUE STILL FAVORED

Accessory Holds Prominent Place in Suits—Waistcoat and Blouse May Be Combined.

The waistcoat, or vest of some sort, is quite pronounced in suits. There is the short pointed vest of cloth, which is really part of the coat itself, the vest of fur with high neck swathing collar and the long waistcoat of a contrasting material. This is really a jumper, as there is a back and sleeves of white crepe de chine, the vest portion being of white taffeta. However, the idea is to exploit the vest, which is made of a different material from the blouse portion for this very purpose, although what might be termed as the blouse part cannot be said to be altogether unobtrusive, as the ribbon white silk, of which it is made, is studded with dots of black stitching, hand done.

An Ivory Bracelet.

An attractive ivory bracelet has as decoration a ring of black elephants.

Dog Had Many Friends.

Six thousand persons signed a petition to save the life of a dog which in London (England) magistrate had ordered to be killed on account of an alleged ferocity.

THE DIFFERENCE

Throughout the United States the deflation of values is being accompanied by reduced production Money is not as plentiful as it was during the war and most people find it more difficult to meet obligations.

President-elect Harding has been studying business conditions and in consequence of his conclusions he urges the practice of public thrift, beginning with his own inaugural which he wants to be simple and inexpensive "This," he says, "will require no expense, and we shall be joint participants in an example of economy as well as simplicity which may be helpful in the process of seeking our normal ways once more."

Governor Miller is urging state departments and the legislature to economize in the expenditure of public funds by abolishing useless offices and thus saving millions of dollars to people already tax-burdened.

At Washington, congress is being urged by officials not to curtail appropriations but on the contrary to increase them in order that the vast army of office holders may continue the same life they have been enjoying.

At Albany and in other places throughout the state of New York, office holders who would be affected by Governor Miller's plan of public economy are joining forces to prevent the elimination of useless jobs.

In nation and state the people returned the Republican party to power because President-elect Harding and Governor Miller made clear the fact that if elected they would insist on economy in spending public money. A Republican congress and a Republican state legislature were elected in order to insure the two big leaders a working force with which public economy could be put in operation.

Congressmen and state legislators may want to pay political debts to men holding easy jobs whose activity may have resulted in their nomination, but should they pay them with the taxpayers' money? Taxes are too hard-earned to be spent on men whose principal claim to distinction consists of their inability to earn when in competition with other men a sum equal to their public salaries.

It is easy enough to be a "good fellow" with another man's money, but what does the other man think about it? And what does he do?

TROUBLE MAKERS.

The chief rivalry in the markets of the world, formerly between Great Britain and Germany, is now between Great Britain and the United States This of itself is enough gradually to breed a hostile feeling which eventually might attain dangerous proportions. If this were all, however, serious trouble might be permanently averted by common language and traditions, similar sentiment, and the recognition that civilization itself depends on the prevention of the lasting ruin of a desperate and prolonged war between the two great branches of the English-speaking race But this is not all. Many agitators are doing their utmost to bring on war between England and the United States over the deplorable Irish situation Though caring nothing for Ireland, the Germans are making this Irish movement go to the full extent of their ability, both revenge and ambition firing them with the hope of riding upon the ruins of a war-blasted English-speaking world.

One of these many agitators, who, according to the New York Times, ever since his arrival has striven to embitter the relations between this country and Great Britain, plainly aims to bring on war in Madison Square Garden the other night he "passionately urged" outbreaks in this country similar to those taking place in Ireland Such a frightful murder can and should be checked The really disquieting and perplexing feature of the incident unfortunately not an uncommon one) was that "Harry Boland was cheered with frenzied enthusiasm by thousands and thousands of men and women the great majority of whom, at least ostensibly and theoretically, are citizens of the United States" What is to be done about all this, what is to be the end of it, the future only can show. Meanwhile it is pertinent to remark, with obvious truth, that there is no essential difference in spirit between our so-called citizens who in recent times put Germany's interests above America's and the so-called Americans who now act like revolted subjects of Great Britain, seeking to drag their adopted country into their revolt and thus plunge into war the two greatest nations now—except for this dragged in agitation—wholly at peace

AT THE THEATERS.

DELINQUENT BOYS ARE PAROLED

Justice Carle's House on Saugerties Road Crowded With Stony Hollow People to Hear Settlement of Cases of "Child Outlaws."

Another hearing was had before Justice of the Peace Charles A. Carle of the town of Ulster this morning in the cases of John Madden, Walter Madden and Edward Neumeyer, three boys living near Stony Hollow, who were arrested some time ago on complaint of a neighbor, and were charged with juvenile delinquency.

The arrest of the boys was made by state troopers after a long and exciting chase over different sections of the town. The charge arose over an assault which they had made on the small daughter of a neighbor. John Madden, the oldest of the trio, is 10 years old, and the others are each 8 years old.

At the hearing before Justice Carle, DuBois J. Gillette, of the district attorney's office, appeared for The People; William H Grogan appeared for the three defendants and William D. Brinnier, Jr., appeared for the complainant. There was a large attendance of neighbors, some of whom came to Justice Carle's home on the Saugerties road in their own automobiles and other coming in taxis.

During the hearing a feeling of antipathy among some of the women developed toward each other which added greatly to the interest of the case.

The complaint was withdrawn against John Madden, who has been placed in a permanent home with friends of the family in Sullivan county. The complaint against his brother, Walter, also was withdrawn as he, too, has been provided with a home through the efforts of Miss Angeline Dwyer, and he was paroled in the custody of the Rev. Father Spellman. The case against Neumeyer was adjourned for one month and he was paroled in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Fiero.

If the boys break their parole, they will be sent to a protctory.

BASKETBALL TONIGHT.

St Peter's vs. Eagles and Tigers vs. Caseys at St. Peter's.

The regular scheduled games of the Colonial League will be played tonight between St. Peter's and the Eagles for an opener, and the Tigers and Caseys for the second performance.

The first game promises to be hot-contested and judging from the showing St Peter's made against the Eagles it looks as though the Eagles will have their hands full. The Tigers, too, in their last exhibition gave evidence of unbeatable basketball especially in the second half of the game with the Eagles. If they duplicate this evening the Tigers' string of wins may be broken. Matty Kelly will perform as referee. Balfe's orchestra will furnish dance music and refreshments will be served after the game.

The Colonial "Big Five" journeys to Catskill to meet the formidable team bearing the standard of Co E.

SEC'Y HUDSON'S REPORT DEALS

and the members of the Chamber and Rotary Club joined with the delegates representing the various organizations in the discussions of the conference.

The immediate value of the conference in its focusing of interest and bringing together of information on the subject of boys' welfare was great. The conference, however, was the beginning and not the end of the movement.

Extension, cooperation and coordination of work in behalf of the boys of Kingston is according to a vote of this conference to be promoted through a permanent conference meeting quarterly, having an executive committee of nine members and working according to a definite program, a considerable part of which was outlined in the resolutions adopted by the first conference. The permanent conference will be organized on January 26th.

This movement which the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club have inaugurated, and to the carrying out of which their energies are pledged, is capable of becoming one of the most important factors in the development of the future citizenship of Kingston.

Family Welfare.

The relief of poverty and distress appeals to the heart of every man and woman. It is also a matter of vital importance to public health and morals and to sound industrial and business conditions.

Kingston has in the bureau of social service a valuable and efficient agency for insuring the maximum effectiveness of work for the relief of poverty and distress.

Skilled and sympathetic service is of even greater importance in this matter than gifts of money. Such gifts in fact often aggravate rather than relieve poverty and distress unless they are accompanied by this service.

The bureau of social service was not only an agency for necessary investigation but also was a clearing house for the exchange of information and the organization of cooperation among the private organizations and agencies and with the public agencies having to do with this matter.

War conditions brought about the suspension of the bureau's active work. There is at present decisive evidence of the need for something of this kind. The Chamber of Commerce was one of the cooperating agencies which maintained a temporary clearing house in connection with charitable gifts at Christmas.

The recent boys' welfare conference, approaching the subject from the viewpoint of the importance of family responsibility for the sake of boys and girls, recommended that serious consideration be given to the provision of a family welfare agency.

A conference of those interested especially in family welfare work, called by the Chamber of Commerce, believed that the resumption of the active work of the bureau of social service would be the best solution and voted to ask the board of directors of the bureau to consider such resumption of its work.

Housing.

The special committee on housing has, perhaps, the most difficult task and one of the most important of any of our special committees. Last year 261 cities seriously considered what to do to relieve the housing shortage which affected practically every city in the United States.

Only 45 cities accomplished anything of importance and not half a dozen of these 45 accomplished anything that could be fairly described as a full solution of their housing troubles. The experience of these few cities was so far dependent on local conditions as not to suggest a solution which could be applied generally.

Furthermore, many of the 45 cities which did do something in the way of actual building even though on a totally inadequate scale found that they were building at a cost so great as to interfere with the ready and secure disposal of the houses built.

Under these circumstances, our own failure to organize a housing corporation and proceed with construction can not be viewed with unmixed regret although such action on a conservative and sound basis did at one time seem to be on the point of consummation.

The first encouraging factor for 1921 is a considerable drop in building costs. The second is a somewhat easier tone in the market for money and credit.

It is at least to be hoped that the individual builder may this year reappear in numbers sufficient to put us well on the way toward a resumption of house building on a normal scale.

One clear function of the Chamber of Commerce is to maintain a constant study of building conditions, to make the results of this study available for the benefit of individuals considering building in 1921, and, if conditions warrant, by publicity and other encouragement try to increase the amount of private building.

The organization of a special housing corporation at this time seems to be unwarranted. There is, however, another and better way to increase the supply of funds available to loan on new building. This way is to encourage by such action on the part of the Chamber of Commerce as may be appropriate and welcome to existing building and loan associations, the investment of funds in those associations, either in partial payment on paid up shares. Here, in the judgments of conservative and far seeing men is the hopeful way to encourage the resumption of building.

Zoning.

The possibility of improper uses of neighboring property which may destroy the attractiveness and greatly depreciate the value of his own property is a constant menace to every property owner and indirectly to everyone who rents property.

The harm which may and does come to a city by the improper location of industrial and commercial enterprises in residential blocks and other similar evils is a matter of civic concern.

Kingston has at present no regulations dealing with this subject, except health regulations and the laws governing nuisances. These are altogether inadequate for proper control.

Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., has recommended that attention be given to the adoption of a zoning ordinance based on the successful experience of other cities. The Chamber of Commerce has an active special committee on zoning.

As a first step toward securing the public discussion which is necessary basis for the drafting, adoption and enforcement of a satisfactory zoning ordinance, this committee recently held a Chamber of Commerce dinner at which W. J. Donald, managing director of the American City Consultants, Mayor Canfield and Arthur C. Connelly, chairman of the special committee, were the speakers. The committee has further plans for the investigation and consideration of zoning.

Autobus Traffic

Autobus traffic is bound to play an increasingly important part in the development of Kingston, more especially because of the lack of suburban and interurban trolleys.

The Chamber of Commerce has this year maintained three terminal waiting rooms as an experiment for the encouragement of this traffic and as an aid toward the convenience of the public.

These waiting rooms have unquestionably demonstrated their usefulness, although a number of problems must be solved before that usefulness will reach its maximum.

There is also an important question as to whether the permanent maintenance of these waiting rooms is a proper function of the Chamber of Commerce or should be otherwise provided for.

A special committee is now going into this matter as well as other and equally important questions concerning the development of autobus traffic.

Agricultural Relations.

The extent to which the prosperity of Kingston is affected by the prosperity of the surrounding farming country can hardly be overestimated. Kingston needs the farmer and it is equally true that the farmers needs Kingston.

The Chamber of Commerce has a special committee on agricultural relations which is planning a program of work dealing with agricultural matters.

The Chamber, through this committee, has asked the Ulster County Farm Bureau to suggest ways in which we can be of service to the farming community. The executive committee of the Farm Bureau has for this purpose appointed a subcommittee to constitute, with a subcommittee of our committee on agricultural relations, a permanent joint committee to bring matters of mutual interest to the attenion of the Chamber of Commerce and Farm Bureau.

The first definite project to be undertaken will be the securing of additional Farm Bureau memberships in Kingston, thereby strengthening the Farm Bureau and also bringing more Kingstonians into sympathetic and well-informed contact with the agricultural development of Ulster county.

The officers of the Farm Bureau will be guests of honor at a Chamber Commerce smoker to be held early in February.

It is the judgment of our committee on agricultural relations and also of the Farm Bureau that exceedingly important results for the mutual benefit of city and county will issue from this union of effort so auspiciously inaugurated.

Summer Development.

The other great interest of our surrounding territory beside farming is the resort industry dealing with tourists and summer guests.

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce one year ago took an important part in the organization of the

Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain Association which represented the first development of organized and general cooperation for the benefit of the entire Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain region in the counties of Ulster, Delaware and Greene.

Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain Association.

The first year's activities of this association have abundantly justified the vision of its founders. The Catskill-Shawangunk region stood almost alone among the resort districts of the east in maintaining 1920 at the volume reached in the exceptionally favorable year of 1919.

The mountain association through its extensive publicity campaign, including the preparation and distribution of folder maps of the region, which have received universally favorable comment on the grounds of accuracy, clearness and attractiveness; advertising in New York and other papers; in the Automobile Blue Book; in New York theatre programs and by a greater amount of unpaid publicity than the region had ever previously received may fairly claim to have been large instrumental in securing this large volume of business.

The things of greatest importance in the work of the association, however, are not the immediate results of the first year. The primary purpose of the association is to build up the permanent prestige of the Catskill-Shawangunk region and to bring it to the attention of the great number of possible tourists and guests, far exceeding even the large number who are already familiar with it and need only reminders of its varied attractiveness.

And beyond this the mountain association, which includes in its membership not only resort men but also business men of the various towns within its territory and chambers of commerce and boards of trade, plans to go beyond the limits of a publicity association and become a Federated Chamber of Commerce for the region, taking up whatever kinds of work will make for the development and wellbeing of the entire district.

Two matters deserve special mention. The association serving a large territory of some 3,000 square miles, which includes many communities and districts maintaining a healthful rivalry one with another, has earned for itself a confidence in its broad basis of seeking the interests of the region as a whole without any favoritism which has not only made possible the continuation of this joint effort for the good of the entire region, but has done much to establish mutual acquaintance and friendly relationships among all the communities.

The association by its own work has furthermore inspired greater activity on the part of its individual members, and of local chambers of commerce and boards of trade, in giving that publicity to the advantages of particular places which is a necessary complement to publicity for the region as a whole.

Kingston's Summer Development.

Our own efforts have this year been chiefly devoted to supporting this common movement for the good of the entire region, knowing that this is fundamental for Kingston as well as for every other community in the region. It is by development of the prosperity of the entire region that each particular community will benefit most by the increased business naturally coming to it from the growth in the importance of the entire region.

There are, however, specific things that need to be done by Kingston and directly for Kingston to which our special committee on summer development is giving attention.

First among them is the provision of increased facilities for the accommodation of summer tourists and guests.

Next is the development of additional means of recreation in Kingston for summer guests, including especially a public golf course of eighteen holes and some provision for water sports. This might well include also some attention to winter sports for which we are pre-eminently fitted by location.

Finally on the foundation which these things would establish there should be a well-planned campaign of Kingston publicity on a permanent basis and featuring especially the new west side scenic highway from New York which the Rondout bridge and the Storm King road will make possible, and the forty mile drive from Kingston around the Ashokan. Nor should the natural beauty and historic interest of Kingston, itself, be neglected.

Passenger Traffic and Schedules.

Kingston is favored by location with respect to means of communication with other cities, especially New York.

There is, however, room for improvement in passenger schedules by both rail and water which would be of material benefit and would especially promote the convenience of our business men who find it necessary to make frequent trips between Kingston and New York. A special committee has been appointed which will go into this matter thoroughly.

Retail Trade Branch.

The advancement of retail trade and particularly the development of Kingston as a trading center ranks high in importance among the services which the Chamber of Commerce can render to the community.

The retail trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce had from time to time held important trade events and in other ways had effectively aided our merchants.

Experience showed, however, that the importance of retail trade promotion was so great and the nature of this work so distinct that the committee form of organization was altogether inadequate.

The retail trade committee, therefore, at the invitation of the Chamber's board of directors drafted a set of by-laws for the government of a retail trade branch of the Chamber of Commerce, which form was approved by the board of directors and is now in effect. Full control of retail trade matters is vested in the retail branch, which meets regularly on the first Wednesday of each month, beginning with January of this year.

Every retailer holding membership in the Chamber of Commerce is a member of the retail branch. The retail branch primary nomination and final election selects its own executive councils composed of seven retailers holding office for one year. The executive council elects its own president, vice president, treasurer and recording secretary. The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is executive secretary of the retail trade branch and its executive council.

The first executive council is made up of W. H. Rudderham, president; John Gregory, vice president; S. E. Eighmey, treasurer; Robin Stelle, recording secretary; V. A. Gorman, Ralph Cohen and C. H. Lovin.

With this improved form of organization, working on the basis of substantial accomplishments by the former retail trade committee, the successful working out of far-reaching plans that will be of large benefit to every Kingston merchant is anticipated.

Rondout Creek Bridge.

Although no single organization can claim all or the major part of the credit for the construction of the Rondout creek bridge in behalf of which many organizations have given important services, the sustained interest and activity of the Chamber of Commerce from the inception of the movement in favor of a bridge up to the present time has without question been of large importance—a fact to which both former Governor Alfred E. Smith and State Commissioner of Highways Frederick S. Greene have testified.

The completion of this bridge will in effect bring Kingston much nearer to many of our neighboring communities and will also aid largely to the volume of through traffic coming into Kingston by automobile. The Chamber of Commerce and its retail trade branch should both be awake to the opportunities thereby presented.

Port Ewen.

The Rondout bridge will also strengthen the ties between Kingston and the neighboring community of Port Ewen. We should consider carefully the many opportunities for neighborly cooperation which will thus be made possible.

Industrial Development.

The industrial development of Kingston will always hold a place of great importance in the program of work of the Chamber of Commerce.

The establishment in Kingston of the plants of the Kattermann & Mitchell Silk Company, the Apollo Magneto Corporation and of L. Barth & Son, Inc., hotel equipment, marks a sound foundation on which further industrial location work may be built.

Believing that the interest and responsibilities of the Chamber of Commerce with respect to manufacturing concerns which we encourage to locate in Kingston begin rather than end with the establishment of their plants here, we are giving and will continue to give a great deal of attention to the kind of cooperation which forwards the development of these plants so that they may be satisfied with their choice of Kingston and may be encouraged to expand their Kingston operations.

It is as important to assimilate new concerns and to render service to our older enterprises as to secure the location of additional plants. Indeed permanent success in the location of manufacturing plants depends on the experience of existing plants more than on any other factor.

One way in which it is probable that the Chamber of Commerce can be of material assistance to all Kingston manufacturers especially with the resumption of favorable national business conditions is through some form of publicity and personal contact to acquaint all young men who have gone out from Kingston in recent years under less favorable employment conditions with the opportunities for employment which Kingston now affords.

Trade Opportunities.

Another opportunity for service, especially in connection with export trade, lies in the securing of information with respect to the demand for goods manufactured in Kingston and the establishment of contacts between our manufacturers and export and import houses. One recent contact so established will undoubtedly result in very substantial orders for goods manufactured in Kingston.

Similar opportunities from time to time occur in domestic business. It is possible to develop this service on a much larger scale than has heretofore been attempted.

Direct Industrial Location Work.

The added prestige gained by the development of our male labor industries, during the war by the location here of the three strong companies which the Chamber of Commerce has recently secured, establishes beyond all question the possibility of important industrial expansion and development.

The Chamber of Commerce can now carry forward its work of presenting the industrial advantages of Kingston with a renewed confidence gained from our success in selling Kingston on its merits without the payment of any bonus and in the keenest of competition.

This work should be carefully planned and should include a far-reaching and permanent plan for giving adequate publicity to our exceptional advantages for concerns employing chiefly male labor.

It must be combined with our efforts in behalf of civic development so that our living and working conditions may continue to be thoroughly attractive and so that we may continue to be able to afford the best possible opportunities for satisfactory development to each new plant located here.

Residential Development.

There is every reason to hope that building costs are tending toward a normal level which will make it possible for us to organize a systematic effort to attract new residents who come solely because of Kingston's attractiveness as a city in which to find pleasant homes as well as those who come because of its industrial and commercial advantages.

There is no reason why under normal building conditions a very considerable increase in our population should not be made each year as a result of a movement of this kind.

Other Important Matters.

There are many other possible fields of usefulness for the Kingston Chamber of Commerce and a number of other important matters on which work is now being done. There are also a multitude of routine matters which must be attended to and the combined value of which to Kingston is very considerable.

It is submitted, however, that the subjects treated above in themselves constitute a community program in the successful accomplishment of which every Kingstonian has a deep interest.

Growth and Needs of the Chamber.

Despite the substantial sound and permanent growth in the membership and revenues of the Chamber of Commerce and in the interest and participation of its members in its work, it remains true that the responsibilities of the Chamber have increased more rapidly than have the resources.

[illegible] Members the 1921 Goal.

The broad civic, industrial and commercial program which we are now undertaking cannot be carried out without very considerable resources in money and in service on the part of our members.

The minimum goal for this year should be an active membership of at least 500.

Members' Participation.

Meetings of the membership are constantly becoming more frequent and opportunities for the constant and effective participation of members in the affairs of the Chamber are being more fully organized.

The Chamber of Commerce is becoming more and more thoroughly the representative organization of a [illegible] enthusiastic and active membership.

Personal Mention.

No attempt has been made to mention the names of the many members who have given this year services of conspicuous value to the Chamber of Commerce. Such a list would be too long. An exception may be [illegible] made in a few instances.

Every activity of the Chamber of Commerce is dependent on the maintenance and increase of its membership. The notable success of the recent membership campaign was due to its chairman, Schuyler Schultz, his assistant chairman, Maurice Safford, to Judge Fowler, chairman of the plural membership committee, and to the team captains and team workers who so loyally supported Mr. Schultz and Judge Fowler.

The ability to secure results for the civic betterment of Kingston is largely [illegible] sympathetic cooperation between the Chamber of Commerce and the municipal government that special mention should be made of the [illegible] of Mayor [illegible]

Retiring Directors.

Although the wisdom of the amendment of the by-laws made two years ago which prevents the immediate reelection of retiring directors and thereby brings each year three new men to the responsibilities of membership in the board is undoubted the members of the Chamber of Commerce will all [illegible] a profound regret that this provision makes necessary the retirement from the board at this time of President [illegible] and Directors Joseph M. Coffee—
The Popular Drink!

Coffee is the most democratic of all drinks. The laborer drinks it from his dinner pail by the roadside; the millionaire sips it from a costly cup in his mansion.

For years the tempting fragrance and delicious flavor of REYNOLDS RELIANCE COFFEE has appealed to everyone. It is a savory blend of mellowed coffees carefully selected. Its rich, smooth flavor is enhanced by scientific roasting. Its wholesome goodness assured by a special process of grinding which removes the bitter chaff.

Remember to ask for RELIANCE. It is always fresh at your grocer's—guaranteed to please or your money back. The Wm. T. Reynolds Co., Inc., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

A Scene of Furniture.

It was reserved to Hogarth to write a scene of furniture. The rake's levee-room, the nobleman's dining-room, the apartments of the husband and wife in "Marriage-a-la-Mode" the alderman's parlor, the poor's bed-chamber, and many others, are the history of the manners of the age.—Horace Walpole.

Unfair Discrimination.

Nicholas watched his papa give his two older brothers money for carfare and money for the collection at church. He wanted to go to church also, but his papa told him he would have to stay at home. He immediately said: "Why don't you make them kids stay home? They is the ones what always wants the nickels."

"LOST" AIRMEN REACH NEW YORK

Special Train Brings Them in to Be Welcomed by Wives or Friends and Some 300 Others, Including Naval and Civil Officials.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 14.—The three "lost" American balloonists came home today. They arrived in a special train from Buffalo, N. Y., at 10:38 o'clock this morning. Though a drizzling rain had turned the snow into slush, and a mist hung over the city, a good sized crowd awaited them in the street to greet the trio.

As they alighted from their train, Lieutenants Kloor, Farrell and Hinton were welcomed by some 300 persons, including many women. Among these were city officials who had come in an informal capacity, many naval officers and relatives and friends.

Mrs. Stephen Farrell and Mrs. Walter Hinton were at the station nearly an hour before the train arrived, both bubbling over with joy. Tears glistened in many eyes when the two lieutenants who had come back literally from the shadow of death by exposure and starvation in the frozen wilds of the Northland, leaped from the train the moment it stopped, and embraced and kissed their wives. The fistic encounter at Mattice and all the acrimony that surrounded some phases of the great adventure seemed forgotten.

As the three lieutenants, accompanied by the men and women who had welcomed them passed through the main hall of Pennsylvania station, the six hundred odd persons scattered there quickly grasped their identity and there were many hearty cheers and impromptu handshakes.

From the moment the train pulled in until the three naval men and the escorting group disappeared in the Pennsylvania Hotel, which is across the street from the station, there was a steady click of a dozen cameras, while a small army of newspaper men surrounding the trio fired endless volleys of questions at them.

LIBRARY ASS'N ELECTS TRUSTEES

The Very Rev. Dean John J. Hickey and Frank Coykendall were re-elected trustees at the annual meeting of the Kingston City Library Association Wednesday night. Vincent A. Gorman was elected a trustee to succeed Howard Chipp who declined to serve another term.

The report of the librarian and a statement of finance were given as follows:

Librarian's Annual Report For 1920

I have the honor to submit the following report of our work for 1920.

The price of books has increased enormously and is increasing all the time. In spite of very good discounts from our dealers our bills for books are considerably larger than last year. We purchased 710 books and they cost us in 1920 $1,013.76. At the same time it should be borne in mind that it is cheaper for the library to buy books than for each person in the city to purchase their own. One copy can be used by a great many people. But it is more than ever necessary that we add to our supply of new and interesting books to meet the demand that is bound to come from those who cannot any longer afford to purchase their own.

The 710 books purchased did not even replace the ones that were worn out and unfit for use. We were obliged to discard 719.

It is in the children's department that the higher prices are especially felt. Their books wear out so quickly and have to be replaced so often that a great deal of our money must go for keeping the library where it is and nothing left over for new additions. The children's future reading depends so much on what they read now that it is very important that they have attractive editions of good books to choose from. They cannot be expected to read worth while books if they are old and dirty or unattractive. More than half, or 366, of the books purchased this year were for children. They responded very quickly. The juvenile circulation was 19,518, an increase of 1,368 over last year.

The total number of books loaned for home use was 54,893, an increase of 1,298 over last year. 63 per cent of the books loaned were fiction.

From the uptown branch in School No. 7 we gave out 3,312 books.

The reading rooms were visited by 11,574 adults and 12,939 children making a total of 24,513. 2,569 people used the reference collection.

843 new readers who had not before used the library registered as borrowers this year. The total registration is 5,149.

Respectfully submitted

Chicken Pie Supper.

The Baraca and Phileathea classes of the Wurts Street Baptist Sunday school are planning to serve one of their famous chicken pie suppers in the chapel on Wurts street next Thursday from 5 to 7:30 o'clock to which the general public is invited. The menu will consist of chicken pie mashed potatoes with gravy, raised biscuit, green peas, celery, cabbage, salad, pickles, jelly and coffee with home-made apple pie with ice cream for dessert.

Downing Street Barred To Idle.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Jan. 14.—Fifty unemployed attempted today to march into Downing street for a demonstration before the premier's official residence, but were turned back by the police. There was no violence. The unemployed came from Camberwell. When they reached the police cordon protecting Downing street the leaders were told that they could not enter. The unemployed then dispersed.

Restorative Dance.

Under the auspices of the newly organized Kosciuszko Band composed of the young men of the parish of the Immaculate Conception Church, a dance will be given at their parish hall, Delaware avenue, on Saturday evening, January 15. A large attendance of young people is anticipated. Allen's orchestra will furnish music.

Tenants Before the Judge.

Truant Officer Harry Staples had a number of boys, Thursday and today, appear before Judge Schirick at his office in the city hall to explain why they persisted in staying away from school. All of the boys were warned that if they persisted in playing truant they would be sent away to an institution, and all were given another chance.

The Editor's Mistake.

The editor of the Independent must bear the whole responsibility for telling its readers last week to date their letters and postals 1921. Quite a number have called attention to the mistake. The only way to find out whether people read the paper is to make a mistake now and then.—New Paltz Independent.

There Was Many a Slip.

Kingston residents walked in slippery places today when the snow fell of the morning was followed by a down pour of hail and rain which made streets and walks a glare of ice.

The Distraction

Also we reckon the reason Cupid makes so many bad shots is that he aims at the heart while looking at the hosiery.—Dallas News.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Jan. 14.—There were declines in many issues at the opening of the stock market today, but after the first few minutes there was evidence of the same absorption that has been in progress for three weeks and it was not long before the losses were turned into gains. A feature of the trading was that many stocks that sold ex-dividend were under pressure. Crucible was ex-dividend 2 per cent and after opening at 92, was offered down to 90½, a loss of over 2 points.

Republic Steel was ex-dividend 1½ per cent and opened at 68, a loss of ¼ and United States Rubber was ex-2 per cent selling at 65⅛, a loss of ⅞. Those stocks moved up easily after their declines. Mexican Petroleum yielded ⅝ to 160¼ and then rose to 161¼. Reading was in demand, advancing 1½ to 86. Steel Common was quiet, selling at 82⅞, a net gain of ⅛.

Although the majority of the list showed a strong tone during the greater part of the forenoon, there were some weak features, chiefly among them being American Hide and Leather, which fell to 43¾. Leading issues, however, were generally in good demand. Reading was most active of the rails, selling up nearly two points to 86⅞. New Haven was strong for a time, advancing to 22 and then fell back to 20⅝. Republic Steel recovered its dividend, advancing from 68 to 69. Mexican Petroleum, after selling up to 161¾, dropped to 159½ and then rallied to 161.

The market closed irregular; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

COL. ROOSEVELT SEES HARDING

And Now Gossip Has Him As Assistant Secretary—Came To Urge General Wood As Secretary of War.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Marion, O., Jan. 14.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., arrived here early today to confer with President-elect Harding. In January sixteen years ago he hung about the White House and watched his father struggle with the formation of a cabinet. There he was not consulted and his advice was not asked. Today he not only discussed administration problems with the next president, but also faced the probability that he would be at least an assistant secretary in the next cabinet.

It will be no novelty to have a Roosevelt in the cabinet. Precedent would place the younger member of the family as assistant secretary of the navy, but it is regarded as entirely possible that "Teddy, Jr." might be named as assistant secretary to the secretary of war.

It is certain that Colonel Roosevelt did not come to plead his own cause, but to advocate in every way possible the appointment of Major General Wood as secretary of war. In the last two days General Wood has been strongly urged for that post by visitors from New York and elsewhere. Colonel Roosevelt was the staunch adherent of his father's friend and comrade in arms throughout the pre-convention campaign and is known to feel himself still bound to the general by the strongest ties.

It is reported on excellent authority, however, that General Wood may be asked to assume the governor-generalship of the Philippines. It is asserted that his experience in Cuba makes him perfectly fitted for a position which has many difficulties. In this connection, the visit today of J. Cameron Forbes, former governor-general of the islands, is regarded as significant. Forbes was accompanied by Judge B. Finley Johnson, of the Philippine supreme court, who had an extended conference with Senator Harding last week.

The war portfolio is also believed to have been the subject of discussion with Senator-elect Richard P. Ernest of Kentucky, who is reported to be a strong advocate of National Committeeman A. T. Herte for that position.

George Oliver, of the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times, and former Congressman James Burke, of Pennsylvania, are also said to have taken advantage of their visit to Marion today to advocate the candidacy of Andrew W. Mellon of Pittsburgh for secretary of the treasury.

Among other callers were Edward Dennison of New York and Isaac Bacharatch of New Jersey.

Senator Harding was given several degrees in York Rite Masonry last night.

Appetite Not Quite Gone.

Mary had reached the stage of satiety where she steadfastly refused all offers of "a little more turkey," "a bit more dressing or mashed potato," or "another piece of bread." Nothing apparently could tempt her to eat another mouthful. Finally, however, the nuts, raisins and candies were passed. "Yes, I will have some," said Mary, and then, apparently thinking her conduct needed some explanation, she added: "I can still eat little things!"

New Use for Wood Pulp Waste.

By carrying a step further the process of recovering sulphite spirit from the waste of wood pulp factories, by evaporation, it has been discovered that a new and valuable fuel may be produced, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The process precipitates the organic contents of the lye in the form of powdered coal.

Heart Trouble Not Fatal.

Heart disease is not the barrier to an active life of usefulness as has always been supposed, said Dr. Frederick Brush to the National Society for the Promotion of Occupational Therapy. Nothing is gained and much lost by telling cardiac patients not to work, not to carry, not to play, and so on. Under proper supervision the person with heart trouble can take a large part in active life.

WEATHER KEPT WILSON HOME

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 14.—It was learned today that had it not been for the extremely bad weather in Washington last night President Wilson would have appeared in public for the first time since he returned from his league of nations tour over a year ago "a very sick man."

Arrangements were all made for the president to view the production at a local theater last night. Secret service men and the president's physician looked over the ground in advance, paying particular attention to the steps which the president would have to negotiate in order to enter the presidential box on the Mezzanine floor. They decided it could be done, but the weather turned so stormy and cold that at the last moment it was deemed inadvisable to attempt it.

President Wilson is an ardent vaudeville "fan." Before his illness he was a regular attendant at a local theater. His last appearance in a theater was in August, 1919.

DIED.

MARTIN—At New York city January 12, 1921, Rachel A. Gay, wife of the late Brazil R. Martin.

A Mass of Requiem will be celebrated for the repose of her soul Saturday morning Jan. 15 at St. Bernard's Church West 14th street, New York. Funeral will be held in this city on the arrival of the 2:15 West Shore train Saturday afternoon. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

In loving memory of our dear daughter, Lucy A. Markle, who departed this life January 14, 1919.

Dear Lucy, two long years ago
Your loving voice was stilled.
You left a sad and aching void
That time on earth can never fill.

The years will come and the years will go
But life will never be the same.
As we think of the happy days that are gone
That will never come back again.

But God is just, His ways are right.
And His thoughts are full of love.
That is why he called you from this world, dear,
To a better home above.

So we will wait and hope that the day will come
When our trials and care on earth are o'er.
And we'll meet again in that better land
Where parting and tears are o'er.

JAPAN ASKED TO "RECTIFY WRONG"

And This is Believed to Mean That Our State Department Wants Lieut. Langdon's Relatives to Get Indemnity.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The Japanese government is seriously concerned over the killing of Lieutenant W. H. Langdon, U. S. N., by a Japanese sentry in Vladivostok, and is anxious to do everything possible to make amends, it was learned at the state department today.

The note of protest sent by the United States to Japan through the American representative at Tokio cites the facts in the killing and asks that "adequate steps" be taken to rectify the wrong and prevent a recurrence.

The note of protest makes no specific mention of indemnity, but it is understood that the only interpretation of the request that Japan "rectify the wrong" is that indemnity be be paid to the relatives of Langdon.

By inference, the note challenges the right of Japanese sentries to challenge American officers on duty in Vladivostok or elsewhere.

Ambassador Shidehara has called at the state department and expressed his "regret and condolence."

SOCIETY NOTES.

SNOW HITS NEW YORK

But Soon Turns to Rain, Producing Slushy Streets.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 14.—The first real snow storm of the winter struck this city early today, but after an inch of snow had fallen it turned to rain, filling the streets with a deep layer of slush. Thick weather extended far out to sea and about 50 big steamers, some of them passenger liners, were reportd overdue. However, all are equipped with wireless and no alarm is felt for any of them.

The street cleaning department had four thousand snow shovelers at work before the temperature rose and the snow turned to rain. Six thousand others were held in reserve.

The storm was general along the coast, extending from North Carolina to the New England States.

NICOLAI LENINE ALIVE AND WELL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 14.—Nicolai Lenine, premier of Soviet Russia, is alive and well, it was officially announced at the headquarters of Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, Soviet representative here, today.

It was stated that M. Kartov, to whose bedside two German specialists were reported to have been summoned, was a "real person" and not a "blind" for Lenine, as cable dispatches had intimated.

The confusion of Kartov with Lenine was due, it was explained, to the fact that Lenine once signed an article "Kartov." L. Kartov was a member of the Praesidium (governing body) of the supreme economic council, the statement added, his identity having been definitely established by the Soviet bureau here by the discovery of a signed article by him in "Economic Life," of June 20, 1920, in which his official title was given.

Dedham School Burns.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Dedham, Mass., Jan. 14.—Fire destroyed the Avery Grammar School here today, causing a loss estimated at $200,000. The blaze, believed to have started in the boiler room, spread through the two and a half story wooden structure. A general alarm was sounded. Families in dwellings nearby were treated to the street.

Life Calls for One's Best.

To make a success of life you must be always at it with your eye on the job. Diversion will stimulate for more intensive effort, but the effort itself must have no diverting influence. "This one thing I do," says the apostle, and in doing it he wins. Keep your eye on the ball and put your best into the game.

Resolutions.

The Board of Governors of the Automobile Club of Ulster County were truly grieved at the death of our esteemed friend and member, William R. Bennett. His death is a great loss to our club as well as the community. His life was an example of great benefit to all who knew him. The pure, simple virtues of his Christian service will always be a helpful inspiration to give us useful service. We cannot let die the memory of such excellence. Therefore be it

Resolved, First—That the foregoing is but a just tribute of respect and love we all cherish for this truly noble man and the admiration we have for the sublime faith he had and his many acts of Christian charity.

Second—That the secretary of this association forward a copy of this to the family of the deceased with the assurance of our deep sympathy with them in their bereavement, and a copy be given to the daily papers for publication.

POISON FATAL TO MISS CAMPBELL

Miss Dorothy Campbell of New York city died Thursday evening at the Benedictine Sanitarium as the result of taking bichloride of mercury tablets at Catskill on Tuesday, January 4. The remains were taken to Catskill.

Miss Campbell went to Catskill from New York on January 4 to visit. It was said she went to see a young man with whom she was in love and that some disappointment prompted her to take the tablets. As soon as it was discovered she had taken the poison she was rushed to the Benedictine Sanitarium in this city, where she has been constantly under the care of Drs. Mark O'Meara and Harry P. Van Wagenen.

Recovery from poisoning caused by bichloride of mercury is rare. It is said that patients suffering from that kind of poisoning may live for ten days, but never beyond that time.

"SMART SET" SEES BOXERS TONIGHT

Leonard-Mitchell Affair Under Wing of Miss Anne Morgan Bids Fair To Be High Class In Every Respect—Leonard Picked To Keep Title.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 14.—There's going to be a hifalutin knuckle party at the old "garden" tonight.

Benny Leonard, a Gothamite of some pugilistic note, will furnish the entertainment, assisted by an able youth from Milwaukee who answers to the name of Ritchie Mitchell.

Young Mr Leonard will box in defense of his lightweight championship and for the benefit of the fund to restore devastated France. He was lured into the match by Miss Anne Morgan, of the American committee for devastated France, the first member of New York's "400" to invade promoting ranks.

For his efforts, Leonard will receive a tidy bit—$40,000. Mitchell will have $20,000 thrust upon him. Quite probably the boxers will be able to accept their guarantees without the aid of an anesthetic.

As the match is a championship affair—15 rounds to a decision—Leonard will have a very busy evening. Mitchell is no set-up for the champion. He will not enter the ring inclined to frolic. Quite contrary, he hopes to leave it with the lightweight title in tow.

When the boxers answer the bell, the ancient "garden" will be suffocated with people. A cosmopolitan assemblage of some 15,000, including members of the "smart set," boxing fans of the ordinary garden genius and a sprinkling of the tin-eared fraternity will be there. Social butterflies will rub elbows with moths, so to speak. In sport it will be a party extraordinary.

The principals in tonight's affair are not strangers. They met for the first time several years ago in a Milwaukee ring before Leonard rose to the level of champion. At that time Mitchell was just a good, tough boy—one of the comers. In the seventh round Leonard stung Ritchie with a hard right to the nose. It made Mitchell sore.

"Just for that," he told himself, "I'm going to get you good."

Mitchell opened up, tossed old lady caution to the winds and cocked his right arm to put an "acer" on the Bronx boy. That was just what Leonard would be waiting for. He beat Ritchie to the punch and the fight ended then and there.

Since that time Mitchell has improved. So has Leonard. At least the champion has not gone back to any appreciable extent. Viewing it in this manner, New York fans expect to see Mitchell give the champ a real fight tonight, but they also expect to see Leonard win.

Betting in Wall street today favored Leonard at varying odds. Some bets were made at 7 to 5 on a knockout and some at 10 to 6 that Leonard would win the decision.

Jack McAuliffe, only retired, undefeated lightweight champion, said today that it looked like Leonard to him.

"Michell is a pretty good boy," said Jack, "but he's something of a gymnasium champion, where Leonard is a fighter. Leonard will win and it won't surprise me if he wins by a knockout."

Many notables will be at the ringside tonight, among them General John J. Pershing.

HERMAN COMING HOME

After Surprising England By Victory Over Wilde.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Jan. 14.—Pete Herman will sail for home tomorrow. The New Orleans bantam, who scored a technical knockout over Jimmy Wilde, in 17 rounds, is returning to the United States to camp on the trail of Joe Lynch, who recently won the title from him.

Herman's victory over Wilde was convincing and the invader surprised a crowd of ten thousand, which included the Prince of Wales and many notables, by his boxing.

On the return of the directors the officers as given in the first paragraph of this story were announced. They were, of course, called upon for speeches.

Judge Fowler, the new president, stated that he was sure that the new officers were to be congratulated for being called upon to serve such a Chamber of Commerce. He expressed the hope that the new officers would do as well as the out-going officers had done.

Vice-president Ramsey thanked the chamber for the second honor conferred upon him, and said that although he will be absent from the city a good part of this year he would do all that he could in the work.

Mr. Eighmey, the other vice president, said that he had just listened to a story of a vice-president that had never been heard of since his election, and felt that he should not be heard from again.

Treasurer Treadwell and Secretary Hudson both thanked the chamber for their reelections. Secretary Hudson pledged himself "to try to do all he could to help the directors and members of the chamber to bring things about."

The board of directors now consist of Judge Fowler, Charles Ramsey, S. E. Eighmey, Cornelius Treadwell, Samuel Watts, Mayor Canfield, A. H. Pardee, W. C. Kingman.

AGUILAR INCRIMINATED

By Evidence In Possession Of Mexican Government.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Vera Cruz, Jan 14.—The commandant of Vera Cruz today forwarded to President Obregon in Mexico City a mass of documentary evidence to support the charge of insurrection against General Candido Aguilar, son-in-law of the late President Venustiano Carranza. The documents included letters which Aguilar had written to army officers inviting them to join him in an uprising against the government.

It is reported that the authorities found a quantity of contraband war materials in the hold of the steamship Florida, which arrived here from New Orleans.

The Deadly Arrow.

A hundred Indians or more can with bow and arrow practice could kill more Indians than a man could kill with a rifle, says the American Forestry Magazine. At close range the arrow was as deadly as the bullet. It made less noise, and arrows could be discharged four times as rapidly as bullets from muzzle-loading guns.

Give a Thought to the Living.

It is remarkable how few of us ever think that angels may be entertained unawares, that the adult may be the one who is in time to become like his sister and cast luster on the country of his birth or adoption. It may be all right to canonize the great when they are dead, but it is well to think how few of them have been appreciated while alive.—Exchange.

Variation in Carpets.

Most carpets and rugs have but one usable side. Brussels has a pile of velvet, but the pile is uncut. Wilton is heavier and more durable than Brussels, and the pile is cut, wherefore it appears like velvet. This carpet is so closely woven that it holds its surface. The Axminster rug (particularly said Axminsters) is more costly than Wilton, but has a lower weave.
